1. In October 1947 there were no Soviet troops in Hulin (133-37, 45-59).
2. A Chinese Communist sniper unit of approximately 500 officers and men garrisoned Hulin in October 1947. It was commanded by LIU Teng-ch'ang (劉騰昌), age 38, who is a regular battalion commander of the Eighth Route Army. The unit arrived in Hulin around the end of November 1946 after being trained for eighteen months in Khabarovsk (135-09, 48-31) by Soviet officers. The unit's staff officers had received special training in military administration and had attended infantry schools.
